

Wilderness Packing List

What to Bring

- Casual clothing (it does get cold at night and in the morning)
- Appropriate Seasonal Outerwear
- Sturdy Hiking Shoes
- Bible and Pen
- Toiletries
- Journal
- Water Bottle
- Please, please bring soap (and use it...campfires don't smell that great when you're not at one.)

Optional

- Camera
- Daypack
- Sleeping Bag (adequate linens are provided)
- Board Games
- Flashlight
- Fishing Gear (you will have to buy a fishing license to fish at the reservoir)

Things to Consider When Packing

- You will likely be hiking, so a good pair of comfy shoes or hiking boots will be needed.
- At night it will get cold. Please bring appropriate clothing.
- At elevation you get sunburn quicker, bring sunscreen if you would rather not resemble a lobster, or at least a hat.
- At elevation you also will become dehydrated much faster than normal. Bring a water bottle and fill it frequently.

Other Important Info

If you have asthma or something similar please bring any medications you may need due to the high elevation.
